Introduction

Civil Service is an integral part of the government formed with the view to deliver service to the public. The service aims to continuously raise its standards and provide an improved service to the people. To address these enhancements, steady efforts should be made to reinforce the administration. The procedures and the processes in the Civil Service should be researched and revised. Changes should be brought to strengthen the services. Robust, adaptable, and efficient solutions can be brought based on the papers and discussions of the Civil Service Conference which would be one step forward to guarantee an extensive and comprehensive service. With this vision the first Civil Service conference was held on October 2014.

Theme of the Conference

2016 Civil Service Conference: Achieving Civil Service Excellence welcomes papers on featured areas:

1. Reforming for a professional civil service: Striving for performance excellence
2. De-regulating the civil service: building divergence and dynamism
3. Ethics and Integrity: promoting professionalism and political responsiveness.
